How to open/close sunshades

To open the outdoor sunshade, first, turn the white handle/lever located on the side of the sunshades in a clockwise direction. This will start to release the sun shade like a curtain opening. Using the hanging rope, pull the sunshade out towards the balcony and down towards the railing, depending on how much sun you want to block out. Below are some of our BEST SELLER tours and day trips. Please see Reception for pricing and reservations.

Capri Island

Cruise the Mediterranean by small ferry boat or Sorrentine Gozzo, as your English speaking guide takes you on a historical journey of the Sorrento Peninsula as you sail to the Island of Capri.

The excursion starts with a circuit of the Island of Capri, sailing around this beautiful and unique coastline, passing Punta Carena lighthouse and the amazing crystal waters of the Green Grotto.

Disembarking at Marina Grande, you are free to explore the island for several hours at your own leisurely pace. Visit Capri township and its elegant Piazzetta for some designer window shopping, the Augusto Gardens, Villa Jovis (the main villa of the Roman Emperor Tiberius) and then travel across to Anacapri where a cable car will take you to the most scenic and picturesque corner of the Island – Mount Solaro.

This is a great trip as you are able to enjoy a brief history and overview of the area and Island from an English guide/skipper while on board, and then travel at your own leisurely pace around the island.

TOURS, DAY TRIPS & RECREATION

The Amalfi Coast – Positano & Amalfi

Travel in comfort with an English speaking guide/skipper as you explore the beauty of the Amalfi Coast.

The first destination of the tour is a circuit of the privately owned Li Galli Islands, which consists of three small islands – Gallo Lungo, Rotonda and Castelletto. According to Greek legend this is where the sirens tempted Ulysses.

The boat then continues on towards the town of Amalfi, sailing along the Costiera Amalfitana, awarded UNESCO World Heritage status for its combination of cultural and natural scenic values. Lined with terraced vineyards, pastel-hued fishing villages, gorgeous gardens, sheer cliffs and ocean vistas the views and colours will leave you breathless.

Discover the township of Amalfi, with approximately 2 hours of free time, and admire the Byzantine Cathedral of St Andrew's, Chiostro del Paradiso, a 13th-century cloister with Moorish arches, and cobblestone streets adorned with the scent of lemon fragrances and soaps famous in the area.

The boat then continues towards Conca de Marini, and its fantastic Grotta dello Smeraldo (Emerald Grotto)*, the Fjord of Furore, and the magnificent Amalfi Coast towns of Praiano and Positano.

Disembark for approximately 2 hours at the cliff-embedded township of magical Positano. Walk the beachfront promenade, shop for Positano linen, or sit back and enjoy an aperitif as you soak the atmosphere of this picturesque town and its mix of colourful terraced houses that climb up the mountain from the sea.

On your return, pass the Fjord of Crapolla and the small Island of Isca.

Pompeii & Vesuvius by Luxury Coach

This tour is ideal for those wanting to experience two of the most touristic icons of the Campania region—the archaeological ruins of Pompeii and the most explosive volcano on the European continent, Vesuvius.

The talented and knowledgeable English-speaking guides will start their commentary from the moment you step foot on the bus! Following a brief overview of the Sorrento coastline as you leave the peninsula, you will reach the first destination of the tour, Pompeii. Pompeii holds an intense fascination for visitors today. Following the eruption of the volcano Mount Vesuvius in the year 79 A.D., Pompeii lay buried and forgotten for hundreds of years. The town is high on the list of the Wonders of the World and the excavations begun in the XVIII Century are still being carried out today. Our guide will take you slowly through some of the ancient streets of Pompeii where you can see Baths, Forums and Villas built by the prosperous Romans in the year 80 B.C. Marvel at the fabulously preserved Frescos which adorned the walls and floors of the Villas. Even if your interests do not lie in history, this is an archaeological site that cannot fail to impress you.

Mount Vesuvius dominates the Bay of Naples. It is the only active volcano on the mainland of Europe. The slopes were once covered with vineyards and woods and provided an innocent looking backdrop for the bustling town below. The coach will take you to within 1.000 metres of the top of Vesuvius and from here you can walk to the very top and admire the splendid panoramic views across the bay. (From the blackened crater rises a single plume of smoke, a reminder that the volcano is only sleeping for now...)

Tour Duration: 8 hours

Inclusions: Hotel transfers, authorised English guide, A/C coach

Please note: Lunch and archaeological site entrance fees not included. A valid photo ID is required for both adults and children.

TOURISM & RECREATION

Tourist Information Offices

Tourist information offices can be found at Sant'Agata, Massa Lubrense and Sorrento. These offices are located at:

- Sant'Agata – located on Corso Sant'Agata, next to the main bus stop
- Massa Lubrense – Proloco Tourist Office near the main piazza
- Sorrento – Piazza Tasso (called Ask Me) and at Sorrento train station (located in an old train carriage)

About the Area – Massa Lubrense to Sant'Agata¹

Massa Lubrense was once an important town and a powerful rival to Sorrento for dominance over this coast. Situations have changed, and Massa is now just one of the small villages that dot this rocky point. The diminished political importance of this area has not deprived it of its unique beauty, though, and Italian tourists in the know come to enjoy the cliffs and the increased sense of solitude the environment affords.

Among the villages, Massa Lubrense prides itself on its church, Santa Maria delle Grazie (Piazza Vescovado), which was built in 1512 and redone in the XVIII century.

In the transept and presbytery you'll find nice examples of the original majolica floor, but the real attraction here is the fantastic view over Capri that you can enjoy from the terrace to the right of the church. Below the church is Marina della Lobra, a picturesque fishing hamlet with a little harbor – and also one of the peninsula's rare stretches of sand.

The sanctuary here – Santa Maria della Lobra – was built in the XVI century over a Roman temple, probably dedicated to Minerva. Inside you can see the original XVII century, wood-carved ceiling and the XVIII century majolica floor.

From Santa Maria delle Grazie, follow the sign toward Annunziata; the road leads to the old Massa Lubrense, established in the X century and destroyed by the Angevins in the 1300s. Here you'll find the church of the Santissima Annunziata, the original cathedral of Massa, redone in the XVII century. Nearby are the ruins of the castle – only one tower is standing – which was built in 1389. From the Belvedere, weather permitting, you can enjoy an extraordinary panorama that encompasses the whole Gulf of Naples.

Farther on toward the tip of the Sorrentine peninsula is the village of Nerano, perched atop a cliff at 166m (544 ft.). Below the village is the fishing hamlet of Marina del Cantone with its lovely beach where locals keep their boats. Nearby Termini is another small town built on a natural terrace overlooking Capri.

From Termini, drive down the local road to Punta Campanella, on the tip of the Sorrento peninsula, with its famous lighthouse.

Finally, you will reach Sant'Agata sui Due Golfi: One of the region's largest villages, it benefits from its matchless position overlooking the two gulfs – of Naples and of Salerno – hence its name. The village is focused around Santa Maria delle Grazie, a XVII century church that boasts a beautiful altar of colored marble and semiprecious stones. Follow the signs toward Deserto, once a Carmelite hermitage and now a Benedictine monastery. At an altitude of 456m (1,496 ft.), it affords a spectacular circular panorama over the Campanian coast, stretching all the way from Ischia to Punta Licosa, south of Paestum. The monastery is open to visitors October to March (8:30am-12:30pm and 2:30-4:30pm) and April to September (8:30am-12:30pm and 4-8pm).

From Sant'Agata, you can also head toward Torca, a village only a few minutes away, perched at 352m (1,155 ft.) above sea level.

From the village, take in the beautiful view over Li Galli, Positano's small archipelago.

Hiking and Swimming

You can do some swimming from the beach at Marina del Cantone, but to really enjoy the sea, renting a boat (with or without driver) is a must: It allows you to discover small beaches, inlets, and hidden bays otherwise inaccessible from the high cliffs. The seashore here is a marine park, Area Marina Protetta di Punta Campanella, extending all the way from Punta del Capo, near Sorrento, to Punta Germano, near Positano.

One great excursion is the one to the Bay of Ieranto, a lovely cove with a magical atmosphere. Well-known to the ancient Greeks who named it Hyeros Anthos, meaning "Sacred Flower," this bay was declared a protected area in 1984 and, as a result, it remains a completely untouched haven. Cut into the cliff, the cove of clear water ends in a beach, Marina del Cantone, where a few boats are usually moored.

Arriving by boat to this lovely cove is a striking and marvelous experience. Rent a boat - with or without a driver - and dedicate about a half-day for the excursion. From the beach, hug the coast heading southwest till you see the large Y-shaped promontory called Sedia del Diavolo, meaning "Devil's Chair," a particularly appropriate name when you see it during a flaming sunset. As you pass the first arm of the Y, with the medieval watchtower Torre di Montalto, there is a pretty little cove, which is an introduction to the more spectacular bay that awaits you farther along. Once you pass the second arm of the Y, the Bay of Ieranto opens like a fan in front of your bow and is closed to the west by Punta Campanella. Beyond, starts the Gulf of Naples.

If you are moderately fit, we highly recommend hiking the local footpaths for breathtaking views. The area offers 22 marked and maintained hiking trails, for a total length of 110km (68 miles). One of the best hikes is the one to Punta Campanella, much more impressive than the drive there. From the village of Termini, take the small sloping street to the right of the central square: This road slowly descends to the hamlet of Cercito, and then continues down the Vallone della Cala di Mitigliano. This beautiful valley is filled with olive groves and typical vegetation (called macchiamediterranea), including scented mirto, a plant that is quite rare nowadays. The trail then crosses a plateau with large boulders and the ruins of Torre di Namonte, a medieval watchtower. Past the tower, the trail begins a steep descent toward the sea as the beautiful profile of Capri looms into view. You'll get clear views of Capri, with Monte Tiberio, Monte Solaro, and the Faraglioni, only 5km (3 miles) away. A modern lighthouse guards this dangerous cape and its waters, made treacherous by the many rocks in the Capri Narrows.

On the last part of the trail, you'll actually be treading the ancient Via Minerva, the original road that led to the Greek temple dedicated to Athena (called Minerva by the Romans). To be visible to all passing ships, the temple was positioned near the lighthouse. The olive groves in this area go back thousands of years and were originally planted by the Greeks: Believing that olive oil was a gift from Athena, the goddess of wisdom -- we tend to agree with that -- they brought gifts of olive oil to her temple.

Another favorite hike is the trail to the Bay of Ieranto. The terrain is quite steep at times and can be moderately challenging. The best time to go is early afternoon to have a chance to experience the water phenomenon we describe above. From Nerano, take the street at the right-hand side of the village, past the last cluster of houses. This street connects to a trail on the slopes of Monte San Costanzo, the westernmost peak of the Monti Lattari. The trail descends through macchia mediterranea and eventually descends the cliffs overlooking the sea, affording spectacular views. Budget a little over an hour each way.

One last hike we greatly recommend is the one down to Fiordo di Crapolla and its beach. From the village of Torca, take Via Pedara, which eventually turns into a dirt path. The trail descends a steep slope among olive groves and old farmhouses, and then among the rocks of a narrow crack in the cliff. As you descend on the western side of the cliff, you will see the ruins of the XII century abbey of San Pietro. Once at the bottom, you'll find a small beach; the blue water beyond the cove is broken by many rocks -- the very ones, it is said, where the Sirens wrecked the ships of innocent mariners. By the beach, you can also see the ruins of a patrician Roman villa, where the ancient town of Capreolae (today Crapolla) was built. Figure on spending about 30 minutes on the descent.
